Lisa Jacenich

Evolve Into Divine Love

How can we induce “extra-ordinary”, collective, PURE, Divine Love?

Saturday, February 15th 3pm

Lisa Jacenich will discuss a topic that has been fascinating her for years, “the transcendent experience”. What does the experience actually look like in the brain and heart? What does it feel like as we straddle the line between ego-lessness and being human in this fast-changing world? She will examine the energetic implications of each stage of consciousness as it relates to the ability to transcend. The session will include an experiential opportunity. Participants are requested to bring the following items: journal, pen, pillow, blanket and eye mask. www.ArtfulGifts.com

BIO: Lisa Jacenich has dedicated the last 25 years transforming her life with the art of well-being. Surviving her own “dark night of the soul” and traversing her way through a pharmaceutical nightmare, she began her relentless search for answers to create a life of peace, abundance, joy and freedom. Lisa develops and facilitates Innovative Transformations, Emotional Intelligence Integration and collaborations.
